Vietnam

Tomorrow, Brother Adrian and myself will begin our 11 hour journey from New Zealand to the shores of Vietnam. We covet your prayers for the continued success of the work going on in Vietnam.

This trip we will descend into Hoi Chi Min and begin the first stage of our trip throughout the region in and surrounding Saigon. We will then travel up to the north and work in around this region with some remote villagers then we will head down into the central regions for some meetings. Please pray for us.

Next up, Brother Adrian shares some thoughts to help gear the saints up for prayer,

When one goes into a nation, the first thing that strikes you is the different way that people relate to the world around them in comparison to what you have always experienced.

The prophet tells us that it is the "spirit of the nation" that gives people their culture, their mind-set and their actions.

63-0317E THE.BREACH.BETWEEN.THE.SEVEN.CHURCH.AGES.AND.THE.SEVEN.SEALS_ JEFFERSONVILLE.IN SUNDAY_

« 78 "Oh," I said, "it's just the spirit of the nation." And I said, "When you go to Germany, they have a certain spirit. Go to Finland, they have a national spirit. You come to America, we have a national spirit." Our national spirit is frolic (See?), jokes. You know why? We were founded upon the doctrine of the apostles. We were founding upon leadership of great men like Washington, Lincoln, but we have moved off of that foundation, and we know that we've got it coming. We know that a atomic bomb's got our name wrote on it. We know that slavery lays ahead of us, no need of fooling yourself.

Disclaimer: Though I detest the spirit of America, I love the wonderful Saints of that nation that have sacrificed their lives for the gospel. They are Christians and don't identify themselves with a culture.

If you are to look at the United States of America, you see a nation of inward thinking people that have very little knowledge of anything outside of their own nation. It is a nation that pushes and shoves itself into every sphere of politics around the world to maintain its economic interests. As a result of it's egotist nature, it has long forgotten the day of it's visitation. Judgment lays firmly at it's door. It is a women's nation run by that woman Jezebel, Rome.

That same national spirit tries to influence message people around the world with their imperialistic attitudes of "the prophet came out of America so we know more than you do". However they forget to remind you that that same prophet said "I don't pray for America anymore". And to be honest, except for the very few "born again ministers" from the USA that are worth listening to, many are a shame to even take the name of Christianity. They try to live on a past reputation not realizing they don't have a reputation anymore worth listening to.

136 "America. God bless America. It's--it's a nation, it's a Christian country."

It's a million miles from being a Christian country.
I don't even pray for it. How can I pray for it, and it won't repent under the mighty powers of God demonstrated before it; and denying, and closing the doors to it, and walking away? I commit it to God. And she is going further away. And now she is going to sink. Just watch what happens.

When I went into Vietnam for the first time you could see the American influence had saturated the thinking of the people. Within 5 minutes of speaking to any representative of Christianity (nominal or otherwise) they were asking money for this and money for that and money for something else. When asked where this habit originated, it came back to the same place... the USA.

Leaders wanted to build big congregations and invited big ministerial names to build their kingdoms of self-importance and when asked where this habit came from, it was again the USA.

The first time I saw Vietnamese women that claimed to be Christians, every one- without fail- looked like "little Miss America". Everything patterned after some feather-brained Hollywood wannabe.

But we all know that anything patterned off a nation that has been condemned to judgment isn't going to go very far, so the people must be taken out of the earthly into the heavenly.

Missionary work is about breaking away the veil of spirits that cover the people so that the word can get to its destination in those that are predestinated. As you start to make headway by showing them prophecy in the scriptures and moving them into the revealed word of this hour, then slowly, slowly changes start to take place. Some nations are more difficult than others and Vietnam heads the list. But like every servant of God in the bible, we should never back off from a challenge.

From the 1st of June until the 23rd of June I am going into Vietnam again but this time with a young minister from NZ – Bro' Andy Clifford. Missionary ministers must know the supernatural and have had a real experience in the Lord and have a full comprehension of the vision that the Lord laid out from Genesis to Revelation. The battle is hard and fast and the obstacles great, but the word always arrives to those it is intended for.

Our success relies on the prayers of the Saints. You need to know what to pray for and that is why I have laid out this article this way. We are heading into North Vietnam this time into the unknown, as well as revisiting our brethren in Central and South Vietnam.

One soul saved is worth 10,000 worlds. The hour is late and the world is falling fast. We should not rest until the last one is in.

Shalom

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John 8:32

New Believers awaiting baptism

One soul is worth 10,000 worlds. Applying that phrase literally, the revival that has been sweeping parts of Uganda is worth more than 27 million worlds. With over 2700 new baptisms this year, Uganda is in the midst of a glorious outpouring of God's grace. This does not including baptisms in the estimated 600 established churches. While it does not match the 3000 added in one day in Acts 2, it is an extraordinary display of the saving grace of our God.

As seen in pictures that almost seem imaginary, hundreds of spiritually hungry Believers in Uganda lined up for Baptism in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. These souls which includes pastors, deacons and even bishops have left their churches to walk in the light of the Message of the Hour. Some are gathering in rented facilities, while small groups gather to worship under whatever roof is available. The souls are definitely hungry to receive the Word, and whatever the needs are, they are looking to the Lord to meet them.

The revival can be traced back to late

Brother Fred speaking with Pentecostal Believers before baptism

December 2017, when several Ugandan denominational pastors heard about the Message of the Hour. Brother Fred Kayingi, who is the voice of the Message radio program in Uganda, began receiving requests for additional information. The seed of the Word hit fertile soil. He and his team traveled to Central Uganda to meet with these denominational ministers. As a result, 15 of the pastors were baptized, and soon after returning to their congregations, another 117 congregants were baptized. This caught the attention of the denominational leaders and bishops in the area, and they began to resist the moving of the Lord. Despite the opposition, over 500 more were baptized in the next two weeks. At this point, the secular news media picked up the story of the baptisms, and published it in print and broadcasted it on TV, and radio.

The converted pastors are now opening

Departing the church to go to the river for the baptisms doors for the Brothers to bring the Word into more local churches, increasing the numbers of baptisms further. Those being baptised, including leaders, who have left their churches, are now gathering to worship together. Denominational leaders and bishops are resisting, but some leaders are sincerely examining the truth of scriptural baptism and other truths revealed by the Message. The revival is still growing, and more continue to come forward for baptism. At the time of this publication, another 485 have been baptized in April, bringing the total baptisms to well over 2700. The need for churches in which to gather is very great. Please, keep the new Believers of Uganda in prayer. We are believing God will meet the needs of these hungry souls.

Recently, a revision of the Church Age Book in the Luganda language has been completed, and the book currently being printed. This book will be a key component in helping ground the new Believers in the Word. While current donations will cover the initial printing of 5000 Church Age Books in Lugandan, there will be further printing needs due to the mass of new converts. They are hungry to read the message books, as well as the Revelation of the Seven Seals books, which are also needing to be printed. Additional translations are being added to the Message Hub in both the Luganda and the Runyakitara languages, so message books are ready and available to be printed for the Believers.

Uganda Radio Broadcast: Background & Current Impact

In 2014, Bible Believers sponsored a Radio Broadcast in Uganda as a test project to reach the illiterate with the Message of the Hour. It has not been an easy task. Lugandan Message translations first had to be completed. These printed translations were then used to create audio translations. Lastly, the audio translations were divided into portions to be used on the radio. The radio broadcast has been well received in the country, bearing much fruit and has been a key resource for the new revival breaking out in the country. Believers, new and old, can also tune in every week and obtain spiritual food in due season. God's hand has been seen in all stages of this project, establishing the work in preparation for the mighty outpouring that only He knew was to come. It is wonderful to see the growth and development of the initial test project as it has expanded to multiple radio stations across the country.

In our last BFCR, we reported on a group of Believers in Kimaga who left their church to follow the Message. This group of 130 believers struggled to find a place large enough to accommodate their weekly worship services. With the help of concerned Believers around the world, funds were raised to purchase a piece of ground and building materials for a simple structure. We are pleased to report that this structure has been completed.

Follow-Up

Brother Tim Dodd will be in Uganda at the end of May and will be ministering throughout the country and assessing the needs of Believers there. A full report will be given at Cloverdale Bibleway upon his return. Watch for updated missions reports at www.bibleway.org.

Bible Believers is committed to assisting the Brethren in Uganda and covets your continued prayer and support.

Ethiopia

Remote Village Welcomes a God of Power

The villagers worshipping a miracle-working God

We serve a God who bears witness of Himself, by His supernatural acts.

"God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will..." (Hebrews 2:4)

Recent events in Ethiopia bear witness that a Book of Acts is being "written" behind the Bride in the last days.

An amazing chain of events unfolded when Brother Busobozi, pastor in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, was recently called to pray for the natural brother of Sister Buzeneth, a woman in his congregation. The man, Tefera, was at the point of death from tuberculosis and had been given up as a lost case. Within a week of prayer being offered, the man was able to breathe on his own without oxygen. He could walk, talk, and was gaining strength. Soon afterward, he came to the church in Addis Ababa for baptism in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. News of this miracle travelled to his wife, several hundred kilometers away. Immediately she followed her husband in giving her life to the Lord and was baptized during a trip to Addis Ababa. Brother Tefera, now in full strength, has returned to his home village and testified of his healing and the power of prayer in the name of the Lord Jesus. He has become known to the villagers as "the second Lazarus," since he had been given up for dead.

After hearing the news of this miracle, a man named Terfa was inspired to travel from the distant village to come and be baptized. A great stir was growing in the village, and the people began to plead for the Brothers to come visit. They wanted to know more about this God that Brother Tefera had received.

Interestingly, Brother Tefera's brother, Ndale, is a Lutheran priest. Ndale had a dream the night before Brother Busobozi went to the hospital to pray for Brother Tefera. In his dream, Ndale saw the Brothers come into the hospital to pray for Tefera, and dreamt that he was hindering them. He felt that the dream was a sign to him that God had indeed healed his brother. After the dream and his brother's miraculous healing, Ndale supported the Brothers, encouraging them to come and minister in the village.

With the support of a local priest and an undeniable miracle paving the way, the door was clearly open for Brother Busobozi and expectation was high among the villagers. Brother Busobozi and several companions made plans to undertake the difficult two-day journey over asphalt roads, dirt roads, and finally roads impassable to vehicles. The last five kilometers would normally be traveled on horseback, but they were forced to walk, as horses were not available. When they arrived, nearly 200 villagers were awaiting their arrival and were anxious to hear their words of life - no wonder after witnessing such a mighty miracle in the life of Brother Tefera. Disregarding his office as a Lutheran priest, Ndale had invited all to come and hear from Brother Busobozi and the Word of God.

Though exhausted from the long journey, Brother Busobozi preached to the village on "The Cup of God's Salvation," illuminating the restoration of true salvation in this day. Like a scene from the Book of Acts, the Word went forth powerfully to receptive hearts.

"People listened attentively and were grasping the Word," reports Brother Busobozi. "As I was closing, it got so hot that someone wanted to stop us (one of the Lutheran evangelists) but Priest Ndale stopped him."

Brother Busobozi invited any who had questions to see them after the meeting. Several evangelists and people from other denominations came to ask questions and hear more. To these, Brother Busobozi and his companions explained the Word more thoroughly. Several believed and made plans to come to Addis Ababa for baptism. Others requested more meetings. At an informal meeting the next day, the Brothers were able to address many questions from the villagers on subjects such as child baptism and salvation.

"God is giving us this village," Brother Busobozi concludes. "We can but watch and pray as we look toward the absolute will of God in the coming days."

Thankfully, horses were available for the journey out of the village, and the team returned to Addis Ababa, exhausted but joyful. This amazing string of events was completely unplanned by man. God, Himself, orchestrated a powerful witness on His own behalf. We wait in great expectation to see what will happen next in the work God is sovereignly performing in this remote village in Ethiopia.

This is but one testimony of the spread of the Message of the Hour in Ethiopia. There are Believers in many areas of the country now, and many have been put in contact with the Message by a supernatural intervention of God. Others, who have crossed paths with Believers, have been immediately convinced and later baptised. Some have gladly received the visitors carrying the Truth, into their homes. God has a Bride that He is gathering from the "four corners" of the earth. He will not lose one, and He alone will make sure that His End Time Message reaches each member.

Recent rule changes by the Government of Ethiopia have necessitated Brother Busobozi relocating his family back to Uganda. While nothing surprises the Lord, Brother Busobozi was not expecting this move or the related expenses. The Brothers, who have been birthed by the Word in Ethiopia, will now need to step into more responsible roles and carry the torch of the Word themselves. Please remember them all in prayer. Bible Believers will continue to support the fledgling work in Ethiopia during this transition time.

INDIA

Renewed Efforts to Supply the Need

With hundreds of thousands of Believers, many of them young in the Lord, India has a great appetite for the Message of the Hour.

Like other countries with large numbers of Believers, the cost of getting books to all would be financially impossible. However, as Brother Branham said in the Church Age Book, "money isn't the answer".

"Don't do it," says James. "Don't do it. Money isn't everything. Money isn't the answer." And today it is not the answer either. We have more wealth than we have ever had and yet less is being accomplished Spiritually. It is not with money that God works. He moves by His Spirit. And that moving of the Spirit comes only to a life consecrated to the Word." 119-2 SMYRNAEAN.CHURCH.AGE.CHURCH.AGE.BOOK CPT.4

For almost 40 years, translation work into the various Indian languages has been sponsored by Bible Believers. In the last seven years some others have stepped forward to sponsor translations. Yet, as we so often see, the need continues to exceed the funds and the supply of books. With the development of the Message Hub Mobile (MHM) application, a way has been made for translations to quickly reach Believers, through hand-held devices. Now translations can reach a Believer very easily and without printing cost.

To compile all the translated messages onto the MHM, many previously completed Indian translations have to be gathered and uploaded to make them accessible. After much work was done by Brother Freddie Gray and a team of Believers in Hyderabad, Telegu became the first Indian language available. It was released on the app in December 2017. However, this huge victory was not without struggle. Some difficult issues had to be resolved; for example, reconciling the MHM font structure with Telegu language characters. Despite the difficulties the Lord has blessed the work of many, and the Telegu language is now available to Believers in India and all around the world.

In late February this year, Brother Tim Dodd and Brother Kim Dingwall travelled to India. One of the goals of the trip was to help organize the gathering and uploading of translations in many other Indian languages. Teams were formed for Hindi, Marathi, Tamil, and various others. Then the work of converting old translations into up-to-date computer formats began. Progress was quickly made and within one month, the Hindi language was added to the MHM. Other languages are expected to follow soon.

Even with modern technology and the progress we have made with the MHM, books will always be necessary, especially in the tribal areas where many Believers live. Another purpose of the trip to India was to set up a small office to print books in limited quantities. By uploading the translations to the Message Hub, any print station will be able to make books available where they are needed and individual believers can freely print any uploaded messages in their language. Bible Believers continues to encourage the existing printing works which have sprung up throughout the country. Working together we can help supply the Bride in India with "spiritual food in due season".

Bible Believers continues to sponsor the Message Hub and the associated Mobile Application to make translations available in as many languages as possible around the world. This unique site allows translators to share translations and is available free of charge for anyone to download, print, read online, listen to, or search the Message of the Hour.

CHINA

Testimonies from the East

The mighty visitation that has come to the great nation of China over the past two decades continues to ripple out as God is raising up gifted men in many places to nourish and lead the Bride in her heavenly calling.

This winter, Brother Murphy Wong was in China for a month-long tour. He was joined by Brother Tom Rae and Brother Ron Spencer, who spent two weeks holding meetings in various cities. The Lord was present to declare and reveal His Word. Many lives were deeply affected by the Lord through the ministries of these Brothers, including both natural and spiritual healings.

One woman was very burdened for her unsaved daughter, who did not want to come to any of the meetings. Eventually, left the moment Brother Murphy prayed. She was willing to receive and serve such a powerful God. She was baptized that very afternoon.

A man attended the meetings having first heard the Message when he was witnessed to by a Believer while riding a bus. He vehemently rejected it. However, the believing Brother persisted and asked him if he would come to a meeting if he paid his way. The man accepted the offer and travelled several days to the meeting. He continued to resist the Message as he had a Christian testimony of his own, and the idea of God speaking through a Prophet in the last days was too much to believe. Under the power of the preaching he could resist no longer and stood up shouting, "I receive it! I receive it!" Since this time, the Lord has anointed him with a passion for witnessing and he has had great success for the Lord.

He has begun his own witnessing campaign online and in chat rooms. People in other places have invited him to come and tell them more about this Word. He is now traveling all over China, witnessing to people he established contact with in the chat rooms. In only a short time, 14 people have been baptized as a result of his witness.

Many of these 14 new Believers came to the recent meetings with Brother Murphy. One of the new sisters had been a minister. She told the Brothers about many contacts she has in America and urged them to go and share the Word.

The Chinese King James Bible has been bearing fruit all by itself. One man, who purchased a copy from Brother Caleb, followed the link in the Bible and found information about the Message of the Hour. After asking Brother Caleb about Brother Branham, he contacted Brother Murphy with questions regarding the Daughter of burdened mother being prayed for in the prayer line

Daughter being prayed for by Brother Murphy

she was persuaded to come and even went through the prayer line. After the service, as Brother Murphy was greeting people at the door, the same girl approached, holding her stomach in obvious pain. Brother Murphy bowed and offered a quiet prayer for her. Later, the woman's mother called saying her daughter wanted to be baptised. Her pain had

Brother who was baptised after coming in contact with the Message via the Chinese King James Bible

Brother (in white jacket), who was introduced to the Message on a bus, now a great witness for the Message of the Hour and is pictured here singing with some of his converts connection between the Bible and Brother Branham, the Godhead, and Serpent Seed. Over the next several months, his spirit began softening, and he came to the point where he would have to make a decision: to follow this Message or walk away. The conversation fell silent for several months before he contacted Brother Murphy again with a request for prayer. A few days later, he asked Brother Caleb if he could be baptized. His decision was made. It all started with the Chinese King James Bible.

Prior to one service, a woman testified to the believers of how she had received the Lord through the witness of her sister. Brother Murphy and his companions arrived in the city a few days later. They were impressed upon hearing the woman's testimony. That night, the woman had a dream in which a voice spoke to her, telling her, "You will have a Bible tomorrow." She thought it must be a meaningless dream because she could not read. Her sister had wanted to give her a Bible right after she was saved, but thought it would have been useless to her as she was illiterate. The next day, after preaching, Brother Tom noticed some of the newly printed Chinese King James Bibles on the desk, and asked Brother Murphy if he could buy one. His desire was to give it to the sister who had testified the day before. When she came into the room, Brother Tom presented her with the Bible, not knowing anything about the dream or her inability to read. When she saw the Bible, she wept, realizing this was a gift from God. The Lord is currently opening her understanding as she is now learning to read for the first time.

Currently, laws are changing in China which affect how Bibles can be bought and sold. The government recently mandated that all online Bibles are to be taken off the market. The Chinese King James Bible has been under government review for sale in China, legally. In this we are praying that a new door will be opened for the Bible to reach the Chinese Believer. Please pray with us that the Lord will miraculously open this door.

Even as the regulations are tightening in China, doors are opening for the Chinese King James Bible in North America. A campaign is underway to make this Bible available to hundreds of Chinese churches in the United States and Canada. God only knows what is in store for hungry hearts as they read for the first time--the same Bible readings that God used to spark the Protestant Reformation in Europe 500 years ago.

Chinese speaking communities exist all over the world, and the Chinese King James Bible is a way to reach them with the last day's Message. We pray that an accurate Bible in conjunction with the Message, will have the same fruit among Chinese Believers in North America as it has had in China. Please remember to pray for the progress of the Word of God in the Chinese language.

The King James Version is based on what is called the "Majority Text." This "Majority Text" is found in most ancient Greek manuscripts. Until this became available, one version of the Bible, the Latin Vulgate of the Catholic Church, reigned. When the Protestant Reformation swept through, many languages around the world received their own translation of the newly released Protestant Bible, based on the "Majority Text". A "Majority Text" Bible has never been translated into Chinese, until now. Since the early 1900's, the Chinese Union Bible has been the only version available, and it was based on modern English translations. The Chinese Union Bible has many omissions and differences from the King James Bible.

Israel: Night of the Bride

Shalom and greetings once again in Jesus name.

This past month we were witnesses to events unparalleled in history. May 14th marked the date of the first “generation” of seventy years living in restored Israel. On that same day the US Embassy was opened in Jerusalem, forcing the world to recognize an established fact – Jerusalem is the eternal capital of Israel.

A few days following, on the 19th, was the celebration of the Feast of Weeks - Shavuot in Hebrew or Pentecost in Greek. Counting from when the lamb was slain and it's blood applied to the doorposts in Egypt, fifty days later Israel's journey culminated at the foot of Sinai in a sovereign act of redemption. That was the day when the presence of God descended to His Prophet and His Word was given.

Jews consider the receiving of Torah at Sinai as the marriage between God and the Jewish people. Naturally, this is also the theme of most Jewish wedding ceremonies. Shavuot is so respected, fervent Jews will stay up all night reading scripture in preparation for the dawning of the “new day”. The book of Ruth is also read on this night alluding to the Gentiles redemption.

Below is a brief summary that provides a “window” into the heart of many fervent Jews in Israel today. Sincere, earnest Jews are longing and praying for the culmination of their Redemption – which we must remember - includes ours as well.

Shavuot: As in the days of bondage in Egypt, the time of exile from the land Israel was referred to as the Night. It is in the state of darkness or the absence of Light, that restrictions and sufferings are experienced.

In each of the six days of creation it was stated: “And there shall be evening, and there shall be morning, one day.” [Gen 1:5] Biblically, night precedes and is included in the same “day”. It is impossible to achieve the state of “day” without the preceding state of “night.” The night sufferings are opposite to the property of day, which is mercy.

The prophet Zachariah writes about this NIGHT, that after the END OF NIGHT there will come a complete deliverance; (14:7): “And there shall be one day, which shall be known to the Creator, neither day nor night, but it shall come to pass come evening time: there shall be light.”

Within the Creator is His attribute of mercy. The earthly manifestation of His presence known as the Shechinah is a special realization of His mercy. It was on the 50th day at Sinai that the Word was given which revealed His mercy. But that only was possible with the help of the night. It is during this night of the eve of Shavuot (Pentecost) that the Bride prepares to unite with her Husband.

That is why on the eve of Shavuot Jews stay awake all night to study the Holy Scriptures, the Torah and the Prophets because the Word is the Bride's adornments. This is the Bride's preparation. She adorns herself with them, and rejoices in the Torah all of that night. In the light of day she comes to the chuppah or canopy for the concluding step and sealing of her marriage.

The Groom first approaches the Bride and places on her a veil in an act of holy modesty. This is to remind all of the greater and surpassing beauty of her character and virtues that he admires. The placing and the eventual lifting of the veil by the groom, is also a statement of his promise of his protection, provision and commitment.

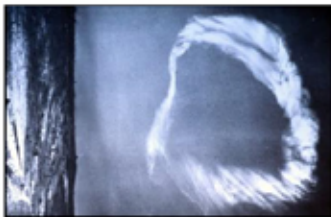

The couple then proceeds to stand under the chuppah canopy which is rich with symbolism as it represents; the groom's covering for the bride; the divine, Shechinah Presence of God; the total of all the Returning Light received on the man. It also symbolizes the groom's chamber [Psalm 19:5] and the bride's new domain, where the marital act was consummated in ancient times.

As the couple comes under the sacred canopy, the Bride then circles her Groom seven times before the completion of the vows and giving of the Token.

The Baptism of the Holy Spirit fifty days after our Lord's crucifixion mirrored this uniting and marriage of God and man first represented at Sinai. It is little wonder why the Lord Jesus stated that it was expedient for Him to depart¹, and critically important for the believers to tarry ye in Jerusalem until ye be endued with power.² As Brother Branham stated, our "uniting with Christ by the Baptism of the Holy Spirit"³ is in fact our "marriage certificate"!⁴ This is the fulfillment of the new Covenant promised in Jeremiah⁵ - a covenant yet to be fulfilled among the Jews. This could only be possible upon their restoration and return to their land. Only then, will they - as Brother Branham; "...going to receive the same baptism of the Holy Ghost that they got back at the beginning back yonder at Pentecost..."⁶

The events we are witnessing are signs for us to recognize the approaching end of the long night of world history and with it - the light and revelation of a new day that consummates our marriage. How timely and appropriate this is for the chosen people of God in Israel who are awaiting the Messiah, and also of our spiritual union under the "cloud" of the Shechinah presence of God restored and revealed in this day.

In conclusion, while in Israel recently, I encountered a merchant with a unique and exclusive memento commemorating the 70 years of Israel's history. It's a clock (11"x7.5") with the images of both Theodor Herzl - the Jewish visionary who in 1897 declared there will be a State of Israel in 50 years - and Ben Gurion, who fulfilled that vision in 1948. If you are interested in this unique timepiece, I've made arrangements for its purchase and shipping from Israel. Please contact me for further details.

May the Lord bless you,
